Description

Garmin InReach SE+ Handheld Satellite Communicators with GPS Navigation

You may venture off the grid, but you can still stay in touch as long as you're carrying an inReach SE+ or inReach Explorer+.

These handheld satellite communicators are designed for the outdoor enthusiast who wants to roam farther and experience more without compromising their loved ones peace of mind.

From backcountry experiences to international adventures, inReach provides communication, location sharing, navigation and critical SOS functions for anyone who loves getting away from it all, on land, water or in the skies.

Explore Anywhere. Communicate Globally.

Using the worldwide coverage of the Iridium satellite network, these go-anywhere portable devices let you exchange text messages with any mobile phone number or email address while using GPS to track and share your journey's progress.

You can also post to social media or even communicate inReach-to-inReach in the field.
